SUMMARY

I excel in delivering performant and easy-to-use applications.
Being a creative person, I easily find effective ways to solve problems entailing their infrastructures. I started my journey 4 years ago as a freelancer web designer, creating websites using Wordpress and custom code to fulfill my clients' needs. Subsequently, during the last 2 years, I decided to specialize into more complex, progressive apps. I am really flexible and opened to learning new tools, in fact I have mastered different industry-standard frameworks during this period. I am very passionate in my job and I like to always be updated in the latest technologies.
